

Are we really moving Forward?

We are currently living in 21st Century on Earth. We have witness a rapid growth in Science and Technology. We are living in a ^{Digital} Electrical connected world. We can visit virtually any place from our room through a device made up with pattern of 0's and 1's. But are we really Developed?

Though we may connect to any person virtually but we are kind of losing our emotion our sympathy our Humanness. For eg: If we go to see function then especially kids Nowadays start a silly job... No Not playing, fighting (in innocence) or yelling is a selfie, let me explain my point there is nothing wrong in saving memories with other person for eternity but it's wrong when you just make memories to remember later. I want to remember my memories not to memorise it. Photos from past can give you immense Nostalgia but only if you lived that moment to fullest... kind of Diverted from main topic but Yeah...

In this time politics of religion and hatred are winning over ^{some} LOVE losing us and what we are a Family. People want Dominance over rather while others want Power in which we are losing over very core element that is HUMANITY.

I even wonder how it would have been the exact place where I am sitting a 100 years ago, 200 years, 500 years to millions of years ago. It's been a long journey for us Human being but as a human it's a short period relatively.

but we should never forget that we are here because of continuous evolution of Earth, Nature and ourselves And the Result is wonderful So Be and Act like a Result of a long process. Be kind, spread Joy be Human.

~~Do~~

Do follow what the heart says maybe your career your habits your values cause, hey!

Now one gonna remember you as you are after ~~to~~ few hundred year be positive, cherish Nature, cherish your own existence. far ~~from~~ from negativity, hatred towards the REAL FORWARD
